

2009 4th Quarter Dialectic History

Parents,

As you know, there are three weeks left in our school year. The research paper, final exam, and notebook check are the culmination of this year's dialectic history work. The following is a checklist for the notebook and final exam. The research paper guidelines are already posted on the Rivendell website. Most of these items have been discussed in class. I request that you review your child's work and assist them with grading the rubrics for both their research paper and notebook. Sign both rubrics to indicate that you agree with their assessment of these projects. It has been a pleasure for me to work with your children. Overall, they have worked diligently and produced exceptional work.

Thank you.

John Carey

Notebook review for 4th quarter

All work must follow the organization as listed below:

1st Timeline

2nd Maps

3rd Each weeks work (weeks 28-36)

1st general information sheets from tapestry

2nd class and website handouts

3rd homework

4th class notes both in class and at home

All must be neat, orderly, and only contain this quarter's work

Extra credit will be given to students that include the entire years work using the same format.